

SYSTEMIC CATARRH OF THE BLADDER

Peculiar to Summer Pe-ru-na Gives Prompt and Permanent Relief.

Clem G. Moore, Editor of the Advocate-Democrat of Crawfordville, Ga., writes the Peruna Medicine Company as follows:

Gentlemen—"After four years of intense suffering, caused by systemic catarrh, which I contracted while editing, and traveling for my paper, I have been greatly relieved by the use of Peruna. I gave up work during these years of torture, tried various remedies and many doctors, but all the permanent relief came from the use of Peruna. My trouble was called indigestion, but it was catarrh all through my system, and a few bottles of Peruna made me feel like another person, noting the improvement after I had used the first bottle. Peruna is undoubtedly the best catarrh remedy ever compounded."—Clem G. Moore.

Capt. Percy W. Moss, Paragould, Ark., says: "I think Peruna is undoubtedly the finest and surest catarrh cure ever prepared, and it has taken but two bottles to convince me of this fact."

Judge Wm. T. Zenor of Washington, D. C., writes from 213 N. Capital street, Washington, D. C.:

"I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna as a remedy for catarrhal trouble and a most excellent tonic for general coditions."—Wm. T. Zenor.

Every theory which might solve the enigma of this man's death has led to nothing.

The deliberate maliciousness which prompted the contemplative suicide to borrow the name, "Thomas L. Maxey," has served the purpose that was intended by the stranger. It has fooled many persons.

That curiosity has been quickened by the veil which the suicide drew over his past life is evident from the series of mistaken identifications connected with the picture of the dead in the public print and the view of the remains at the morgue.

The corpse of the Lindell Hotel guest suggested several possible identities.

Immediately after the arrival of the body at the morgue, called upon to give a name, looked at the dead and said that there was a strong resemblance to a Thomas L. Maxey of Guthrie, O. T., who had gone to school with him in the East.

Later he was mistaken for Robert W. Clarke, a newspaper reporter of Kansas City. Newspaper men in St. Louis knew Clarke, called at the morgue, but found no points of resemblance beyond a few general features.

Identified Many Times but Yet Unidentified.

J. M. Cockrell of Oklahoma City, O. T., was supposed either to be the dead man or to know something of him until a telegram from that city announced that Mr. Cockrell was well and busy at his real estate office.

A card bearing his name had been found in a bathroom of a barber shop back of the Lindell Hotel and Herman Fritsch, the owner of the shop, thought that no one could give him the name of the man who had been identified the day before the finding of the body in the Lindell.

Virgil Maxey corrected the error of J. J. Keston of the hotel, who thought he had identified the remains as those of the young man who had formerly been employed there.

Washington avenue picked the unidentified as Les Maxey, a young auctioneer from Springfield, Ill., who had been in St. Louis the day before the discovery of the body at the Lindell. This Maxey turned up, although some persons thought that he was a duplicate of the error.

A correspondent of the Post-Dispatch said that the picture of the Lindell Hotel guest resembled John R. Olean of Jerseyville, Ill., but that he was not the man who had been identified the day before the finding of the body in the Lindell.

Joseph Veeres, a former traveling man for the Brown Shoe Co., is not the suicide, despite the almost positive identification by Mrs. America Shaw of 462 Page boulevard, who called at the morgue and thought he had identified the remains as those of the young man who had formerly been employed there.

Investigation showed that Mr. Veeres had not been in St. Louis for three years and is supposed to be on the Pacific coast.

Steiner of 616 Pine street was wrong when he decided after gazing at the suicide that it was the body of young Maxey, a cashier named Maxey, who was employed by his father in his banking house at 1101 and 1103 Olive street Monday and Tuesday morning.

FROM FREEDOM TO PRISON CELL

The consciousness of having committed no criminal act, and that consciousness will be it for me to endure the ordeal.

"We have been in New York, but came from Wilmington, N. C., where we passed through Richmond, changing cars there. It was a long and tiresome trip and I am glad that it is ended."

"I am going to enter the prison as a cheerful spirit as may be. I have schooled myself to it. I have no enemies, and I forgive those who have persecuted me. As I said, I am going to take the medicine."

When informed that Warden Woodruffe and Deputy Warden Todd were men of humane tendencies and doubtless would make the imprisonment as easy as possible, Rieger's face lighted up.

"I am glad to know that," he said. "I shall appreciate considerable treatment."

The banker walks with a firm step. He is erect in stature, a man of medium height and build. His eyes are dark gray, beaming and kindly. His features are regular, the face being somewhat full with rounded cheeks and curving chin. He is in the rose of life, with a well-kept, with no marks of dissipation or worry. His hair is a half year of fighting for freedom, with the ponytail coming up at the end and have not carved a wrinkle in his forehead, nor a single dark hair on his head. There is no nervous twitching of his muscles, nor any movement of the hands to indicate mental uneasiness.

This man who is going into prison as a cheerful spirit, and who looks like the other guests of the hotel men of affairs, who enjoy life.

Yet one is constrained to the opinion that Rieger has passed through the slough of despond, wading in the deepest mire thereof, and emerging the keener, purer, in view of his antecedents and his personal history.

The Convict's Early History.

Born in North Carolina, one of eight sons, he removed to Kansas City with the family when he was a small boy. He has five brothers in Kansas City. All successful business men of different lines. They are: James C., a lawyer; Dr. J. H. Lawrence, V. William V. and John J., the latter a former athlete and champion sprinter at Missouri State University. In Kansas City Banker Rieger is known to his friends as "Van."

Remember Van when he was a little tot of a boy," said D. O. Smart today. "He used to come to my office when he was a messenger for the Commercial Bank. He was always an agreeable, charming fellow. All had confidence in him."

All the Riegers said another Kansas City acquaintance, are hustlers. Heavy Rieger, the banker, eventually organized the Missouri National Bank. He was president, vice-president, and J. P. Covington, cashier. Rieger once served as president of the American Bankers' Association.

When the crash came it was found that the bank had failed for about $50,000. Rieger was widower with one child, a boy whose nickname is "Chump." The boy is now with his grandparents in Colorado and knows nothing of his father's predicament.

United States District Judge Hallert of Denver was called to Kansas City to preside at the first trial. This required a long journey. John R. Walker, district attorney, prosecuted. Before the second trial, Mr. Walker died, and William L. Wallace was appointed to conduct the prosecution. Rieger's attorneys were Judge J. V. C. Karpis, Frank Hagerman and Congressman W. S. Cowherd. When the case came to the court of appeals, Judge Hagerman conducted the case, and the second trial Rieger was convicted. Judge Elmer B. Adams of St. Louis sitting on appeals affirmed the conviction. Judge Barnhart handed down a dissenting opinion. His theory was that Rieger was convicted of a crime, but that he was not a felon, and this definitely decided the case. The last rest made a term in prison for the last rest of D. Rieger.

The Wife Who Must Suffer, Too.

A little candy, brought along by Mrs. Rieger, will furnish food and solace in the prison cell. The present Mrs. Rieger was married to the banker's father, who was in Kansas City. Miss Archer was at Springfield, Ill., whether Rieger went after his indictment. He engaged in the insurance business there, and Miss Archer became his wife. She was with him to New York, where he was in business until he found that he must serve his term.

Mrs. Rieger is a sweet-faced little woman. Her smile at the first glimpse of the prison cell is a very evident. As she sits at the table in the Madison House dining room there is a look of appealing sadness in her eyes in abrupt contrast to the steady, nonchalant gaze of the man who has schooled himself to accept the inevitable without a whimper.

Mrs. Rieger will return to Kansas City and await her husband's release.

Mrs. Rieger is the third convicted man in the history of the city who has been sentenced to the prison for a term of years. Two months ago he came to Jefferson City and offered himself at the prison. His commitment papers had not arrived, and he was refused admission. Morse went to the Madison House, where he waited a week for the

Brave Leader of the Boers

Delarey Proves as Brilliant as DeWet.

PEACE SEEMS TO BE FAR OFF
FIGHTING BOERS SPRING UP AND WILL NOT YIELD.

The Average Briton Is Losing Patience
Over the Failure of the English
Troops to Bring the War to an End.

LONDON, June 4.—The average Briton is losing his stolidity in contemplation of the situation in South Africa. Peace seems to be as far off as it was when Cronje and DeWet were in the field at the head of the well-equipped armies.
Lord Kitchener, in a dispatch from Pretoria, dated June 4, says: "DeWet's report of the fighting at Valakfontein, 40 miles from Johannesburg, May 28, just received. On our side 149 men with seven guns were engaged. The force was returning to camp at Valakfontein when the enemy, under cover of a veil of fire, rushed the rear guard, consisting of two guns of the Twenty-eighth Battery and 80 men of the Derbyshire and the Yeomanry. They temporarily captured the two guns. When the remainder of the force came into action the Boers were driven off, the guns were recaptured and the Boer position was occupied. Our casualties were six officers and 40 men and one officer and seven men missing. The other and four men have since died of wounds. Forty-one Boers were killed on the ground. The further Boer casualties are not known. Reinforcements are being sent."
Fighting Boers seem to spring from everywhere, and will not yield. With DeWet and Delarey in the field, the war goes right on. While the Boers are crippled through lack of supplies, the British are planning their army to guard their stores and their lines of communication.
Just now Gen. Delarey occupies the center of the stage and is making a record which stamps him as probably the most modern and up-to-date of the Afrikaner fighters. He is said to be a perfect gentleman in his manners and to be far in advance of his fellow burghers in the matter of dress. He affects none of the regiments of attire so dear to the eye of the real Boer, yet at heart he is a sturdy, an old and as paternal as DeWet or Cronje. Delarey is an officer who engineered the clever capture of the Boer leaders. For eleven years

Johnson Changes His Mind.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Son Will Not Open Intelligence Office.
Taylor Johnson, son of Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Richard M. Johnson, who applied recently for a license to conduct an intelligence office at 319 Olive street, announced Tuesday that he had changed his mind, and would not engage in the business as he had planned. His application for the license, he said, would be withdrawn.
The rooms on Olive street which Mr. Johnson proposed to occupy were formerly the headquarters of the Missouri Employment Co., whose license was revoked May 4 by Mayor Wells, because of complaints by persons who had business dealings with the company.

Religion Losing Ground.

The country is becoming agitated over religion. Periodically some one arises and declares that it is decaying. This results in countless discussions until the agitation runs its course, and still religion flourishes. It always will, for it is something of the world's need. One of the finest recommendations of H. W. Lister's "Stimulus Bitters," the great American stomach strengthener, lies in the fact that it has lived for fifty years in spite of imitations, and is renewed for its cure of constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, malaria, fever and ague, and seen to it that the life-giving elements of the food are assimilated with the blood. There is nothing "just as good." See that a Private Hygienic Stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

MARSHAL OAKES OF METROPOLIS, ILL., SHOT IN THE BACK.

SALOON MAN HIS ASSAILANT
The Officer Turned and Fired Three Times, Instantly Killing His Assailant.

METROPOLIS, ILL., June 4.—Marshal W. E. Oakes was shot in the back, just below the heart, late last night and fatally injured by A. M. Covington, a hotel and saloonkeeper.
Covington, in turn, was shot three times and instantly killed by Marshal Oakes.
The shooting was caused by a visit to the hotel by the marshal, who demanded that certain women whom Covington had been harboring, be sent away.
Marshal Oakes having delivered his order, turned to go. As soon as his back was turned, however, Covington shot him. Wheeling about, Marshal Oakes brought his revolver into action and before he fell from his wound, he had sent three bullets into the body of his assailant and killed him.
Marshal Oakes was filling the unexpected term of Gus H. Crouch, who was killed last February, while making an arrest.

Rev. Williamson will occupy the pulpit of the Third Baptist Church next Sunday morning.

UPRISING OF INDIANS.

Sheep Herder Killed in Wyoming and Settlers Are Frightened.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 4.—Fears are entertained at the Wind River reservation that there may be a general uprising among the Arapahoes and Shoshones there. Sunday evening a sheep herder employed by William Madden of Lost Cabin was shot down by an Arapahoe Indian north of Fort Washaki. The name of the herder has not been learned and the details of the killing have not yet been received at the agency. Settlers believe that the killing is the opening of hostilities and there is a general movement among ranchmen to reach Laramie and other settlements. Word received from Lander tonight says the Indians are arming and that the whites are preparing to protect themselves.

THESE MADE THE LORD'S

How Dowie Duped Susceptible Women.

SCRIPTURE AND SPECULATION

ONLY A SHORT STEP FOR THE SELF-STYLED PROPHET.

Wrote the Black Sisters That He Had No Doubt Certain Gold Mines Furnished a Divine Opportunity for Investment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Despite his self-imposed holy title of Prophet Elijah, John Alexander Dowie is to be summoned into a court to show cause why he should not make restitution to those who trusted in his miraculous powers to the extent of many thousands of dollars and who are now penniless as a consequence. Dowie, who formally announced himself a reincarnation of Elijah, will be taken into Judge Neely's court and confronted with a choice collection of letters over his own signature that are expected to give him much occasion for explanation to his followers and awaken some of them from the blissful trance into which he has thrown them.

Ex-Judge J. W. Bryan is preparing to prove that Dowie has been "borrowing" money from susceptible women as well as devoting time to the study of reincarnation; that he has been promoting questionable mine schemes, and that he has forgotten to pay the debts he contracted.

All these circumstances are to be brought out in the trial of the suit of the Black Sisters of Rock Island, Iowa, to recover money loaned by them.

Since then certain letters have come to light which promise to aid the women and embarrass the "prophet" to the same degree. The first of these letters is a gold mining scheme in which Dowie inveigled the women and in which they lost thousands of dollars, following a letter in which he eliminated because they "mainly" are self-deceived. The other pages over Dowie's signature contain this language:

"It seems as though none beside myself to teach as God teaches in this matter. O, let our prayers be for the money seat of God night and day, and sources. And now, dear sisters, this leads me to speak of the Golden Star mine and Col. L. & Heat Co. By your kindness I am, as well as yourselves, so deeply interested, I know we are of one heart and mind in feeling that these mines are the Lord's, and that they furnish the divine opportunity bringing mighty resources to the aid of his own work, in which we are all so deeply interested."

"I have received three important letters from Mr. Read. I can say to you conscientiously that I know no property that gives a better prospect of a rapid increase than the Golden Star mine, and I am very prayerful and deep consideration on the point if it is possible for you to furnish more capital immediately. In my innermost heart I now believe more fully than ever that this Golden Star property has been designated by God to come into our hands, and I think we might now get a controlling interest by taking advantage of the necessity of getting capital."

"Now, suppose you furnish at least $5000 I am of the opinion that with a prompt $5000 more in four months we can purchase for these $5000 at least $50,000 worth of stock, and with $50,000, which we already control, we would be able to control the $50,000 worth of stock."

Now, this is a very serious proposition, and I know that you will believe me when I say that I have been driven to write and write and tell me your whole mind over prayer. The silver and gold is the Lord's, and as his steward I do want to bring forth for his service. You are never forgotten, especially as the throne of grace, and the fact is you are greatly missed by none more than your affectionate friend and brother in Christ, JOHN ALEX. DOWIE."

ENGLISH INVEST $8,000,000.

Gigantic Deal Closed for Joplin Zinc Mines.

JOPLIN, Mo., June 4.—Cable advices from London announce the closing of a zinc mining deal that involves the transfer of $8,000,000 worth of mining property.

The deal embraces many rich producing zinc mines, mills and leases, and several thousand acres of undeveloped mineral lands. Many of the mines are in Joplin and the deal was promoted by a Joplin man, J. D. Cameron. Its effect upon the Missouri-Kansas mining district, which is now preparing to export one-fourth of its zinc ore to Europe, will be significant.

It is reliably stated that the English syndicate which is investing so extensively in American zinc property will secure control of the Missouri-Kansas zinc mines and seek to control enough of the output to dictate prices.

INNOCENTS KNOWN

MARK TWAIN POSITIVELY IDENTIFIES THEM.

"DOCTOR" WAS DR. JACKSON

He Was a Chicago Physician and Met His Bride on the Famous Trip Abroad on the Quaker City—The Other Members.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Mark Twain has finally spoken, and the much-voiced question as to who was the original "doctor" who was one of the principal characters in "Innocents Abroad" is at last settled beyond the possibility of any further dispute. The "doctor" of "Innocents Abroad" was Dr. A. Reeves Jackson, one of the most prominent physicians of Chicago, who died in 1892.

There have been anywhere from 10 to 200 doctors scattered all over the United States who have been reputed in their own localities as being the doctor who figured in Mark Twain's famous story. In fact, "the original doctor of 'Innocents Abroad'" has become almost as numerous as the stars in the firmament.

There are more of him than there are of the original sole survivor of the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava, or the champion of Waterloo, who has been so thinning by time and disease that only 50,000 of him are left alive today. No matter what proof was brought forth to show conclusively that a certain doctor was the real, genuine and only doctor of "Innocents Abroad," some other doctor, in another locality, would be brought out by his friends with even more convincing proof to show that this second individual was the one Mark Twain made famous, and that all others were impostors.

Dr. Fuesy of this city decided that the time had come for Mark Twain to speak on the subject, and so he wrote a letter to Mark Twain, which called out the following reply:

NEW YORK, April 15, 1901.

Dear Sir—It is true, as you say, that doctor is multiplying from year to year. I have six of him on my list already. I do not know how many you have. The real one was Dr. A. Reeves Jackson, of Chicago, whose too early death I will lament. S. L. CLEMENS.

Dr. Jackson during his life sometimes spoke jokingly of his experiences on the trip described by "Innocents Abroad," but when someone else would be described as "the doctor," he would merely laugh and say: "Well, we are multiplying. The more the merrier." Mr. Clemens and the doctor kept up the friendships formed on the trip, and the humorist made several visits with Dr. Jackson in Chicago.

In connection with his trip abroad, that Mark Twain described as "the trip," in the fact that he had been immortalized in the somewhat indistinct character of "the doctor" by the pen of the humorist.

Blanket Suit Dismissed.

Didn't Pay Costs in Proceeding Against Landlord Berkeley.

The suit of Ernest A. Blanke against Mollie J. and William J. Berkeley for $10,500 damages, has been dismissed in the Circuit Court for failure on the part of the plaintiff to give security for costs.

William J. Berkeley, the defendant, is the owner of the premises at 518 North Garrison avenue, at one time occupied by Ernest A. Blanke, the plaintiff.

One of the alleged attempts on the part of Berkeley to oust Blanke, Blanke charged that he and his family were treated to a regular production of "McFadden's Flats." He said the water in the kitchen was shut off by Berkeley, the furnace put out or ordered, broomsticks and cane stuck in the water

SAVING A LIFE REALIZING WAS HEAVY

EDNA MAY FORSHAY MURDERED BY HER HUSBAND.

BOTH WERE MISSOURIANS

Forshay Waited All Day at Chicago Hotel for an Opportunity to Kill the Woman.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Edna May Forshay, who was Miss Edna Stiles in the May (former company) playing the Bluff, was fatally shot yesterday by Edward Forshay, her husband. The tragedy occurred at the Vernon Hotel, where Forshay had waited for the woman all day.

Both bullets fired by Forshay, who says he is manager of the same company, inflicted mortal wounds. One passed through her left breast and entered her heart and the other imbedded in her back, piercing the brain in its passage through her head.

The couple were married in St. Louis six years ago, when both were connected with a theatrical company, and had lived there some time.

Mrs. Forshay was from Sedalia, Mo., while her husband was from Kansas City. The dead woman's sister lives in Cleveland, O. Forshay ran after the shooting, but was captured by a hotel porter and held until a sharp resistance.

He claims that jealousy incited him to the crime.

LIFE INSURED FOR HIS CHURCH

Chicago Minister Has Taken Out a $100,000 Policy and Will Induce Others to Do Likewise.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Dr. E. M. Stiles, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, who is soon to become rector of St. Thomas Church in New York City, is making heroic efforts to secure the pecuniary future of his church here before he goes to his new charge. His plan is to raise by life insurance a fund of $100,000 for the church, and as a part of the fund, he has had his own life insured for $100,000 for the benefit of the church, paying the first premium himself.

His scheme is to have the friends of the church take out life insurance policies for their benefit. He does not feel that he can carry his insurance himself, but hopes that by the time the next premium falls due persons who by reason of age or infirmity are not able to help by taking out a policy will lift the burden from off his shoulders.

His $100,000 worth of insurance has been issued in four policies, so that no one person shall have to assume it all.

Catherine Drexel, mother superior of a Roman Catholic order, has her life insured for $50,000 on the endorsement plan for the benefit of Indian and colored pupils at a school in Cornwall, Pa.

CHICAGO STEAKS ADVANCE

The Burden of the Rise Falls on the Buyers of Cheaper Meats.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Beef on the hoof, as stockmen say, has been advancing in price for the last two weeks until the retail butchers of Chicago have found it necessary to raise their prices to customers, just as the butchers have done in New York. The unusual feature of the advance is that it affected only the cheaper grades of meat and thus places the burden on the people who cannot afford sirloins and porterhouse steaks and who are content with the cheaper grades.

The advance on what is known as "cheap stock," such as loins, ribs and chuck, is 2 1/2 cents a pound, as compared with the prices a month ago.

"Beef carcasses have gone up nearly 2 1/2 cents a pound in the last two weeks," said a representative of Armour & Co., "but this is nothing new, as the price of beef is higher at this season of the year. The advance will not continue long, and it has reached the top of the market already."

An explanation for the increased cost of beef is found in the late arrival of warm weather and the consequent scarcity of grass-fed cattle from the West.

The stockers are complaining of the supply of corn-fed cattle, and the result that farmers have demanded better prices.

VAST TOBACCO COMBINE

American, Continental and New Companies May Consolidate.

NEW YORK, June 4.—It is reported that a new tobacco company is to be formed which is to take over both the American and Continental companies and also the new cigar company recently organized and now acquiring various plantations throughout the country. Another rumor is that there will be a large increase in the capital stock of the American company for the purpose of acquiring the Continental Tobacco Company.

Some surprise is expressed at these rumors, as it was only a short time ago that the American Tobacco company was reported to be taking over the Continental company or by both jointly.

Judge Ferris ruled the case for June 5.

The Whole Truth!

There's nothing so bad for a cough as coughing.

There's nothing so good for a cough as

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

The 25 cent size is just right for an ordinary, everyday cold. The 50 cent size is better for the cough of bronchitis, croup, grip, and hoarseness. The dollar size is the best for chronic coughs, as in consumption, chronic bronchitis, asthma, etc.

Three sizes: 25c., 50c., $1.00.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send us one dollar and we will send you a large bottle for your own use. Be sure you give us your name and address. Address, J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.

R. C. Kernes Thinks Such a Thing Possible.

HIS POPULARITY SURPRISING

IF A THIRD TERM IS POSSIBLE IT IS FOR THE PRESIDENT.

Perry S. Heath Also Says That the American People May Think Best to Retain Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. CHICAGO, June 4.—The McKinley third-term gossip received impetus today when Committee on R. C. Kernes of Missouri and Perry S. Heath, secretary of the national Republican committee, got together.

Mr. Kernes said: "I don't know whether the third-term idea is popular in this country or not, but in the case of McKinley, his magnetic, lovable personality and surprising career in the service of the people would make it popular if it is not so now."

Mr. Heath said: "President McKinley seems to be more beloved by the people than ever. The American people may think it best to retain him in power."

In speaking of Senator Hanna, Mr. Heath said: "When I said to the London correspondent that the New York newspaper that no better name than Hanna's could be put before the Republican national convention, I was talking to him as a personal friend and made the remark casually. Still, I said it, and I have no reason to withdraw it."

WOMAN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Mrs. Johanna Angermueller Drank Carbolic Acid Without Explanation.

Mrs. Johanna Angermueller, 59 years old, committed suicide at her home, 1316 Geyer avenue, Monday night, by swallowing carbolic acid.

A few minutes after she had swallowed the drug, she was found by her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Remhardt, who lives in the same house. Two physicians were called, but their efforts to save her life were unavailing.

No message was left explaining her act, and her husband, Henry Angermueller, says he will not make a statement until the coroner's inquest.

"D. O. S." The letters "D. O. S." was appearing on the docket of any of the St. Louis police courts, stand for "drunk on the street."

Old and haggard, faded and worn, sits the prisoner in the dock. Red of eye and gray of lock. What hath brought this wretched here? Who the witch's crime can guess? On the book these words appear.

Mary Johnson, D. O. S. How her countenance is seared By the breath of years of sin! How her hand, for mercy reared, Shakes and trembles, pale and thin! Silently she bows her head, As if willing to confess The accusation.

"Mary Johnson, D. O. S." Guilty? Ay, the sin and shame Of it all she understands. But no more the gibe and jeer Of the ones who idly gaze At the fate that brands her here, "Mary Johnson, D. O. S."

THE CUB LAWYER. There is a young professional man in St. Louis, who graduated a bachelor of laws from a noted university at the callow age of 18. He lived in a Central Missouri town. There was about a three foot square in those days all eyes were turned toward southwest Missouri, the land of the big red apple and the blackback.

Our young attorney had hardly revisited his home folks when he selected a location for the practice of the law. He was and is a member of the Senate, as a toppler to begin the process of Daniel Webster himself. Visions of Thomas H. Benton and 39 years in the Senate has topped to a career of success at the bar, lured him.

The fact that he had never heard of the place until he saw it on the map made the cub lawyer a little more than a cub. He was a cub, and undoubtedly there were long docket for the Circuit Court every session. So our cub lawyer peddled his trunk and boarded a train for the place where his thing was to hang. In his hand he carried his most precious piece of baggage—the diploma which declared him a lawyer.

This document, about three feet square, was framed. It had a deep gilt frame. The whole affair was somewhat heavy, but what is the good of a law diploma unless it has weight?

The train reached the county seat at midnight; or, to be more nearly accurate, it reached the railroad station nearest to the county seat, which had been missed by the railroad a matter of three miles.

This station was all alone in the world. No other houses were in sight. There was no night operator. There was no bus to carry passengers to the county seat merropolis. There was nothing but darkness and silence.

But as our young friend had not expected to be met by a brass band and a committee (these would come later), he was not discouraged. He set out to walk to town, carrying his precious diploma and leaving his trunk on the platform. A furlong of that sort of thing was too much for the diploma got heavier and heavier. The lawyer retraced his way and lay down on the station platform, using his trunk as a pillow and his diploma as a shield from the cold dew. He fell asleep, dreaming of becoming United States Senator as soon as he was 30. Only 12 years to wait.

When morning broke the pilgrim hired a passing farmer to haul himself, his trunk and his diploma into town. That day the Circuit Court met. It met at 10 o'clock. It adjourned at 10:30. There was only one case on the docket, and that was settled by compromise. The judge smiled benignly at the cub attorney and asked him where he got it—the diploma.

The attorney took the next train for home. He hung his diploma on the floor of the garret. He came to St. Louis later and made a success in another profession. Now he denies that he ever studied law at all.
